

Foundations of High Fidelity Wraparound Workshop

Red Rocks Amphitheater, Colorado

December 3-4 & 17-18, 2014

Innovations in Wraparound (A Brand New Wraparound 101 Training)

The brand new Vroon VDB Foundations of High Fidelity Wraparound workshop offers an exciting opportunity to learn the fundamentals of high fidelity wraparound, and start your wraparound certification process. Based on decades of experience and research, our new Foundations textbook and training cover more than twice as much material as our old books. High fidelity wraparound gets better and better every year – this training offers you the chance to get the most current and best practices. Specifically, you will benefit from all of our recent innovations. Ideas like transitioning to the family's culture of support, measuring transition readiness assets, and actively pursuing purposeful transition from day one have the ability to significantly improve family outcomes. Throughout this four day workshop, we cover a variety of topics, including:

- The principles, phases, and theory of change of wraparound
- How to build initial engagement
- A practical guide to getting quality Strengths, Needs, and Cultural Discoveries
- Facilitating the planning process
- How to make the implementation phase work for your families
- How to focus on transition with every step of the process

Engaging and interactive, this workshop goes beyond the simply theoretical to the specific steps and skills every wraparound practitioner needs. We focus on why wraparound works and practical advice for how to actually do wraparound. This combination of detailed skills and general understanding sets wraparound practitioners up for maximum success working with real families.
